Instrumental Music Program 2017

The Pittwater House Instrumental Program aims to contribute to each student's development musically, academically, socially and personally. The Pittwater House Creative Arts Department also offers many permanent music ensembles in which students can participate (listed later). These ensembles are open to all members of the School Family who play instruments.

OUR MUSICAL AIMS

- To give all students, regardless of their previous musical experience, the opportunity to play an instrument
- To give all students who play an instrument the opportunity to play in an ensemble that corresponds to their level of musical development
- To develop an appreciation of a wide range of musical styles
- To develop aural skill (musical hearing or 'musical ear')
- To develop the ability to express themselves musically and emotionally
- To provide the opportunity for students to contribute to the quality of life of other people through their performances

Playing in an ensemble can contribute to a student's development of:

- Team, School and Community Spirit
- Self-Esteem
- Social Interaction
- Self-Discipline and responsibility
- Creative problem solving

GENERAL INFORMATION

Instrumental and Vocal tuition is available to all students enrolled at Pittwater House School and is very much a part of the general school activities. Many students in the school are already taking part in private instruction in voice and/or some of the wide range of instruments offered by the school.

What Instrument Can My Child Learn?

The school at present offers tuition with qualified teachers on the following instruments:

WOODWIND

Flute
Oboe
Clarinet
Alto Saxophone
Tenor Saxophone
Bassoon

BRASS

Trumpet
French Horn
Trombone
Tuba
Euphonium

STRINGS

Violin
Viola
Cello
Double Bass
Electric Bass Guitar
Acoustic Guitar*
Electric Guitar*

KEYBOARD

Piano*
Pipe Organ *

PERCUSSION

Includes: Drum Kit, Timpani, Bass Drum, Xylophone, Tambourine, Cymbals etc.

VOICE

* These instruments are not always used in school bands or ensembles. A single piano and guitar may be used in Jazz Bands or Chamber Orchestra but positions are in demand. These students are also encouraged to learn an ensemble instrument as well in later years.

At What Age Can a Student Start Learning an Instrument?

The Program starts in the Junior Schools with lessons on woodwind, brass, string, voice, percussion or keyboard instruments. The starting age depends on the choice of instrument. More information is given below.

Woodwind and Brass

Woodwind and Brass instruments require a level of physical development usually found in a child around age 8 or Year 3.

Percussion

Percussion is not only the Drum Kit. Students will be exposed to different tuned and untuned percussion instruments throughout Early Stage 1 and Stage 1. Tuition is recommended from around age 9 or Year 4.

Guitar

This instrument is not normally taught until Year 4 and above.

Piano and String Instruments Tuition

Pittwater House offers two styles of tuition on these instruments. The two methods are Traditional and Suzuki. For more information please contact the Creative Arts Department.

Students in Years 3 and 4 will be participating in an Instrumental Music Program which gives all students the opportunity to have a Group lesson and to participate in an Ensemble rehearsal during their Curricular Music Lesson time.

During Term 4 of Year 2 the students will be assessed by their classroom music teacher and given guidance on what instrument would suit them best. This is not a substitute for a private music tuition and students are encouraged to have private music tuition in addition to their group lesson. This additional lesson is optional but strongly encouraged.

Which Instrument Should Your Child Learn?

There are several things that need to be considered when deciding on an instrument. It is important that you seek advice on these from trained professionals, such as the School Music Staff. These are the considerations:

Physical Attributes: Some children may not have the physical attributes needed to play a certain instrument: The height of the student, the size of hands and the lengths of arms and legs, may all influence the type of instruments a student can learn eg. Double bass players need to be a little taller than violin players in the early years.

Ensemble Vacancies: The School must consider the eventual vacancies for players most needed by the School Ensembles. Priority will be given to students who wish to play instruments which are in greatest need by Ensembles. All ensembles, bands and orchestras need various numbers and different types of instruments to make up the group. Each instrument plays a specific part in the group or has a special job. In many ways it is a lot like a sporting team. For example, in a soccer team all eleven players cannot be the goalkeeper. The coach will pick the team so each position is covered. In a band or orchestra, the coach's job is given to the conductor. They must make sure there is an instrument for each job. As a result, a band or orchestra cannot sound as good (or balanced) with too many saxophones or flutes and no clarinets, French horns or trombones.

Level of Enthusiasm: We may have problems if a student is forced to play saxophone and they really want to play trombone. This can lead to a high failure rate and needs to be a consideration in the decision. Care must be taken here also that the child is simply not following a trend for example, 'because a friend also learns the instrument' or 'because the instrument is considered "cool" at the moment'. Trends change rapidly; therefore choices made on this basis can be costly concerning tuition fees, instruments and time. Ensure the student has looked at all the instruments available, as often unwise decisions can be made because of lack of knowledge about other alternatives.

How Can We Get an Instrument for our Child?

It is expected that students will eventually purchase their own private instruments where financially possible. Personal ownership of instruments always ensures student commitment and care of instruments. Please do not panic about the cost of instruments yet as there are several ways to offset these costs. Below are some options:

School Hire

The school has a limited number of used instruments available for hire from $102 per term. These instruments are hired for the maximum of a year. After this time it is expected that the student and parents should try to purchase their own instruments. Exceptions are made for some specialty instruments which may be allocated by the school to a student without a fee. Extensions of the hire period can be made in extenuating circumstances after consultation with the Co-ordinator of Creative Arts. Parents will be billed by the School for their hire each term in the school fees.

The school at present controls numerous instruments and are continually increasing their holdings, particularly with more expensive instruments.

Music Store Hire/Buy

Some of the larger Sydney music stores offer hire/buy programs for student instruments. A phone call or visit to one of these stores will provide you with their relevant details. The Music Department will be happy to give you details of such companies.

New or Second Hand Instruments

It is important that beginning musicians start their tuition on good quality instruments. Cheap instruments are often more difficult to play and do not hold their value if they need to be resold.

Whilst it may be cheaper in the short term, the cheaper instruments are often fraught with problems because of poor manufacturing or damage from use. Often a little time spent finding out what to look for, will result in a good investment with possible resale value and a sound instrument for your child to learn upon. Poor equipment means poor sound, this usually frustrates the learner, and they may not feel that they are improving. Some second hand instruments are a good buy, but should be checked out by someone who plays the instrument (eg your teacher or tutor) before you buy it. If you are going to purchase a new instrument please contact the instrumental teacher or one of the music staff at School for advice on instrument brands and problems to look out for.

TUITION

Private lessons are given once per week during the term and are usually 30 minutes long. The students are given tuition on their chosen instrument/s or voice by teachers chosen by the School for their expert teaching skills, qualifications and experience.

Membership of Ensembles

It is compulsory for students who are having instrumental music lessons in the School's Program to participate in one of the many Pittwater House Music Ensembles and singing lessons in a choir. Beginners will be advised by their music tutor of when they are of a suitable standard to commence.

Keyboard (Piano) and Guitar may choose Choir as their compulsory ensemble. This is an extremely important part of their musical training.

We also strongly encourage students who learn music privately, away from the School, to also participate in these Ensembles. The Ensembles are usually great fun and highly educational. Student's efforts in Ensembles do not go unnoticed. Students are rewarded for participation, performances and concerts.

Students in the School's Instrumental Program must then take care with their choice of other extracurricular activities and School sport. They must check that these activities do not clash with Ensemble rehearsal times. Further details about extracurricular activities are located later in this document.

Commitment to Tuition

It is expected that students starting an instrument will continue tuition for a minimum of one year, unless the teacher advises otherwise. If a student decides to withdraw from lessons, a term's notice must be given in writing to Mr David Cosentino (Co-ordinator of Creative Arts) directly or via the Junior/Secondary School music staff. Failure to do this may result in a term's fees being payable.

Lesson Times

Music lessons operate on a rotating basis, where possible, through the daily timetable. Each student is withdrawn for their instrumental lesson from their normal classes at allotted times during the day. As a result of this weekly rotation process, students should not miss more than thirty minutes of any normal class lesson.

Where there is only one student on an instrument, the teacher may arrange a time that is mutually convenient.

Lunchtime, before or after school lessons may be arranged for Year 11/12 students, if the teacher is available and time can be arranged as discussed below. Priority for recess and lunchtime will be given to senior students. Please remember that many of these tutors also service other schools and are only in the School for a limited time.

PLEASE NOTE: Students are required to keep a record of their lesson times in their Music Record Book and Program Book. This allows the student, teachers and parent's easy access to the lesson times.

It is the responsibility of the student to advise the classroom teacher in advance, that they will be attending their instrumental lesson. Students should also see the teacher after the lesson to find out what was covered in class. All teachers are aware of this arrangement and will not hesitate to assist the student to catch up on work missed.

Lesson Charges

The charge for lessons is $49 per half hour.

The fees are invoiced to you via your School Account, and payment is made with your school fees. Arrangements for refunds will be made if a teacher is unable to give a full number of lessons because of public holidays or school events such as excursions, exams etc. However, no refunds will be made for lessons missed without prior notice, because for example, a student forgets to attend at the allotted time or has a dental appointment. Lessons will be charged for when students take holidays during School Term.

Parents are responsible to make arrangements in advance whether a student is unable to attend a lesson. Parents should liaise directly with the child's instrumental tutor to reschedule a lesson should this situation arise. No fee will be charged if the student is unable to attend due to a school function (e.g. excursion). The student should notify their tutor regarding their absence 24 hours in advance.

Senior Elective Classes and Instrumental Music

Students in the Senior School who study an instrument or voice are strongly encouraged to select elective music in Years 9 and 10 and possibly HSC music in Years 11 and 12. In these lessons students study musical performance (instrumental and vocal), composition, aural awareness (listening skills), combined with theory and a basic understanding of the history of music and its various styles. The study of these will enable a student to progress much more rapidly in their practical instrumental studies.

PERFORMING GROUPS

To support the instrumental and vocal tuition taking place in the School, many extra-curricular ensembles have been established by the music staff. These groups provide an opportunity for the students to put into practice the skills they have learned in their lessons. The ensembles (orchestras, bands and choirs, etc.) develop important performance skills such as teamwork, co-operation and valuable performance techniques that cannot always be provided in their private lessons.

The Creative Arts Department is proud to offer many ensembles in a great variety of styles and size, from K-12. Music performance is highly valued in our school and we look forward to welcoming all levels of skills into our progressive Ensemble Program.

In addition to the groups listed below, other groups are formed for special occasions throughout the year. Notice of opportunity to join these special groups will be given to students as the time arises, and membership will depend on the skills of our students and the type of function the Ensemble will take part in.

We welcome you to the vibrant Creative Arts Ensemble program!
